WHAT?

The CT Lung Scan checks for abnormalities such as tumours and is able to detect very small nodules in the lung which is especially effective for diagnosing lung cancer. The goal of screening is to detect disease at its earliest, most curable stage even before symptoms begin. It is also helpful in the evaluation of other lung diseases, blood clots and damage caused by smoking. Don't worry, it is non-invasive and painless!

WHY?

This scan allows doctors to get a closer look at the state of your lungs and identify any diseased or inflamed portions that will require further medical attention. Early identification of cancer gives you a higher chance of arresting the disease. Better yet, there will be a greater possibility of a complete recovery!
