Radiology fees

This brochure provides information about the fees that we will charge for any radiology services and/or nuclear medicine we provide you.

While we are unable to know which examinations your doctor will request in advance, the following table shows the cost of some commonly ordered examinations, including the amount after the Medicare contribution.

Item Code	Item Description	Fee
56507	CT Abdomen/Pelvis + Contrast	$708.05
58503	X-Ray Chest	$105
55036	Ultrasound Abdomen	$184.65

Payment

Payment for our radiology and/or nuclear medicine services is usually made by a combination of:

- (a) Medicare rebates;
- (b) Payments from your private health insurance fund; and/or
- (c) Payment from you.

We have agreements with many private health insurance funds to not charge their members out-of-pocket expenses for radiology and/or nuclear medicine services covered by their policies. However, if:

- (a) you are a member of a fund that does not have an agreement with us;
- (b) your insurance policy does not cover particular services we provide you (for example, non-Medicare rebateable services); or
- (c) we provide you services while you are in the emergency department and you are not admitted to hospital;

you may incur an out-of-pocket expense for our services. If this is the case, we will either send you an invoice for the relevant out-of-pocket expense or send you an invoice for the full amount payable for our services.

You are responsible for payment of our invoice. If we send you an invoice for the full amount payable for our services, you may be able to obtain reimbursement of all or part of the amount you pay from Medicare and/or your health insurance fund.
